

His Berlin Not Across Ocean

William Nigh, widely known for the screen classic he has directed, was detained by customs officials on the Canadian border recently, when he made a flying trip to a small town in Canada to buy some "props" for the big Columbia Metro production, "A Yellow Streak," in which Lionel Barrymore is starred, and Irene Howley is featured. The fact that Mr. Nigh carried a small camera with him and said he was born in Berlin, aroused suspicion until he explained further that he was a motion picture director and that the Berlin he made famous by being born there, is a little town hidden away somewhere in the State of Wisconsin.

Mr. Nigh is extremely versatile, and is a successful playwright, musical comedy and screen star, painter of landscapes and portraits, and for a year worked as a cartoonist on a San Francisco newspaper.

GOSSIP OF THE STAGE

London has the military fever bad. It wants choruses men to back an excuse for their existence by enlisting.

Dorwent Hall Caine, the author's son, is in this country with plays by his father, in one of which he will act.

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, the oldest American actress in active service, is going in vaudeville with a comedy called "Twilight."

An operetta called "The Star Gazer," by Franz Lehár, composer of "The Merry Widow," is to be produced in Berlin on New Year's eve.

"Some Baby" is on tour in Pennsylvania.

Maude Fealey is to appear in a play called "A Lady in Love," by Harriet Ford and Geraldine Duer.

Henry Stanford and Laura Burt have a new playlet by Robert Craig, of their company, called "The Rajah's Ruby."

A. H. Woods is to produce a romantic comedy called "Peter Piper," by George Hazelton and Jeannette Gilder.

"A Place in the Sun," a war play by Cyril Harcourt, author of "A Pair of Silk Stockings," was produced last week in Boston.

May Naudain has been engaged for the new light opera, "Katinka," which begins its tour in Buffalo the last of the month.

Salisbury Field, with whom Margaret Mayo collaborated in writing "Twin Beds," was formerly a newspaper man and critic.

"The Old Homestead" is to be picturized.

Harry Lauder is going on a tour of New England.

Maude Hannaford has one of the principal roles in "The Ware Case" with Lou Tellegen.

WAR STORY

(Continued from page 4, 2nd sec.)

the scenes of "Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo." It is a representation of four big gambling salons in one of the casinos of Monte Carlo, and it is said that nearly 1,000 persons are seen playing roulette and other games of chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

WAR STORY

(Continued from page 4, 2nd sec.)

the scenes of "Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo." It is a representation of four big gambling salons in one of the casinos of Monte Carlo, and it is said that nearly 1,000 persons are seen playing roulette and other games of chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

chance. The camera reveals a panorama and the whole effect is unusually realistic. Another unusual feature of the photoplay is night photography, the result of special experiments (carried on by Frak Reicher, who directed the picture. Among those who appear with Mr. Roberts are Carlyle Blackwell, Dorothy Davenport, James Neill and others.

THEODORE ROBERTS in "Lucky-Paramount Pictures."

THE ANGELUS PLAYER PIANO

"The Angelus Player Piano offers the possibility of producing any desired shading in expression, dynamics, and color of tone."

FRITZ KREISLER.

"There are so many wonders in the Angelus that one can only speak of the ensemble effect—it is perfect. The Phrasing Lever is marvelous, almost beyond belief, in its control of the tempo; the Melodist brings out the melody exquisitely; while the touch and tone coloring are the height of artistry. It is incomparable."

ANNA PAVLOWA.

"My strongest impression of the Angelus is its perfect reflection of the personality of the performer. Through the Phrasing Lever, almost without conscious effort, you impart to the playing your own tempo nuances, while the Melodist automatically brings out the melody. I find the utmost freedom in giving it just the degree of emphasis that I desire. It seems incredible that so much in the way of music as an art can be accomplished with so little effort."

EMMA TRENTINI.

THE endorsement of the ANGELUS by three artists of world-wide distinction—Vocalist, Violinist, Premier Danseuse—each one demanding from the instrument the highest artistic qualities of widely divergent character, and all finding them in the ANGELUS in the superlative degree, is conclusive proof of the supremacy of the ANGELUS as the world's artistic player.

The ANGELUS gives you command of the piano, enabling you to play with the skill and the freedom of personal interpretation of an accomplished pianist.

This is possible because of the patented devices and exclusive features of the ANGELUS which give a control of time and melody otherwise impossible.

We cordially invite you to play an ANGELUS playerpiano. It will cost you nothing to try one of these wonderful instruments.

STORE OPEN EVENINGS

Davis, Burkham & Tyler Co.

MASONIC TEMPLE CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Novels Cause Boy to Disguise as a Ghost

NORTONVILLE, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Adolph Peterson was arrested charged with disguising himself as a ghost to terrify women. He dressed up in a baker's suit of white, covered with a white sheet, and hid in a hedge along side a cemetery. He frightened three women in one night. He made the mistake of trying to terrify Mrs. Thomas Beamis. She screamed, and Constable Hasbrouck, hiding in the hedge, nabbed the "ghost." Peterson, who his 19, owes his downfall to reading novels.

TRIPLE HANGING

First Legal Execution in Talferro County in Thirty-Four Years.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ga., Dec. 4.—Jack Turner, Sam Hardin and Guy Young, all convicted of the brutal murder of a young white man a month ago, were hanged together here, being the first legal execution in Talferro county in thirty-four years. Two others were implicated in a minor degree, and both went to the penitentiary for one year.

The last hanging in Talferro county was in 1881, when Sam Armor paid the penalty for a murder committed in that year. Hundreds of persons flocked into Crawfordville to endeavor to obtain a glimpse of the legal process of sending three men into eternity.

The men were hanged exactly twenty-one days after their trial, the minimum limit being twenty days.

OLD CLOCK

Owned by North Carolina Man Gives Some Interesting Postage Figures.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 4.—Charles Bolin, of this city, is the possessor of an old clock, still running, although its wheels are made of wood and its history can be traced back for over forty years. Besides giving the time the clock has passed in the back some statistics.

From this clock it is learned that in the year 1812 the postage rate for a single letter for a distance not exceeding thirty miles was six cents; over thirty miles and not exceeding eighty, ten cents; over eighty miles and not exceeding 150 miles, 12 1/2 cents; and for a distance of 400 miles, twenty-five cents.

North Carolina in 1812 contained 638,820 people, and the United States 9,625,730. Judging from this record in the back of the clock it must be at least ninety years old.

Dummy

Machine Guns Used by the Austrians on the Southern Battle Front.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 4.—Dummy machine guns which make a noise like the real thing and thereby scare off the attacking enemy, are reported to be one of the latest innovations tried by the Austrians on the southern front.

It is a well known fact that infantry, once loosed on a charge upon trenches defended with rapid fire guns, are apt to swerve instinctively from points where the Maxims seem to be the thickest. However dense the roar of heavy artillery during attacks, the sharp, short barking of these little guns is still distinctly audible. In order to increase the psychological effect of machine gun fire, the Austrians therefore hit upon the idea of mounting in their trenches, alternately with real Maxims, a large proportion of dummies. These produce a rattling sound in sound with that of the real gun, and are operated by rapidly turning a handle.

OBITUARY PARTIES ARE THE LATEST

Boston has developed a new social diversion of a more or less intellectual variety, as might justly be expected, says the New York Sun. It is a deservedly popular and is called the obituary party.

The method of procedure is to ask each guest to supply an original obituary note or epitaph appropriate to one or more of the other guests, no limit being placed upon the number who may be subjected to having a few last respects paid to them. Any guest declining to act may be mulcted in a forfeit to be determined by the company. Only obituaries in verse are accepted, but epitaphs may consist of no more than one line. Three prizes are awarded for the best productions of each class. Herewith are a few specimens submitted at a party held in Commonwealth avenue recently:

Deacon Winthrop, thou has left us,
And we're sad, as sad can be
It was the devil who bereft us
And he has our sympathy.

Mrs. Susan Smith has gone
To the world that never ends;
Sister Smith is always doing Something that will please her friends.

Tom Linson's gone away from us,
They say a better place is his;
But that's not so, because there ain't
No better place than Boston is.

Beneath this stone lies Standish Doan
And surely he must love it,
Because all know he did love so
To always lie above it.

To heaven above has gone at last
Dear Sister Martha Hewitt,
And it will be some time before
She gets accustomed to it.

Richard Johnson has departed;
He was a long time getting started.

Waiting for the elevator
Stood our dear friend, Silas Brown;
"Going up," they called, but Silas
Missed and got it going down.

GETS FINE BACK.

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 4.—Isaiah Widlansky, of this place, was fined $2 for keeping an unlicensed dog, and shortly afterward he earned the amount in the court room by acting as a Polish interpreter for the court.

FORDE ENGAGED.

Hal Forde, the popular actor of musical comedy fame, has been engaged to star in a three reel Rialto feature, "Lesson in Love."

Canners in Sodus, N. M., are using the kernels in the cherry seeds to give flavor to the canned fruits.

New Picture of Universal Star

A call has been made upon the police of this section of the state in an effort to locate Mrs. Charles Ford and two children, Florence and Edith Ford, whose homes are said to be in West Virginia.

Mrs. Florence E. Ford, of Elmira, N. Y., offers a reward of $500 for the recovery of the children, whom she claims are her grandchildren. Mrs. Charles Ford is said to be a daughter of Mrs. Margaret Riley, of this city. The mother and children disappeared three months ago, after Mr. and Mrs. Ford had parted.

The resignations of all the police force of this city last week came as a big surprise to local people and it still remains considerable of a mystery, though it is said that there was no reason for the action of the officers. They were replaced with new officers Wednesday, who were appointed by the mayor. Roy Gillespie is the new chief of police with Clarence Silman as his lieutenant.

A telegram was received this week by the mayor from the Columbus, O., chief of police, stating that a large amount of men's furnishings had been pawned in Columbus shops, the goods all bearing the name of William Archdeacon, of Clarksburg.

It corresponds with the theft of a large amount of goods from the Archdeacon on store here last week and Mr. Archdeacon left at once for Columbus to identify his goods. He is still in Columbus and the capture of the robbers is expected soon, as the police have them under surveillance in the Ohio city.

SPLENDID

(Continued from page 5, second sec.)

star, Holbrook Blinn.

Because of the wide popularity and extremely sensational nature of this production, which has set fire to Broadway, it will be shown two days, thereby giving all ample opportunity to witness and enjoy it.

The story is of great strength, dealing with the neglect by a busy husband of an unappreciated wife who is falsely accused.

A very clever cast of famous players delightfully aid those who appear in the leading roles and with the superb staging and gorgeous costumes, the production is brought to the top of the ladder of fame.

Special musical numbers will be rendered during the week by the great pipe organ and in the evenings by the celebrated Cadenza orchestra, accompanied by the pipe organ, thus giving all lovers of music an opportunity to enjoy splendid musical concerts.

Values One Kiss at $15,000

Cleveland Woman Enters Suit against an Actor for That Amount.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 4.—Kissed before the very eyes of 1,000 persons, hugged in the calcium glow of a spotlight, caressed amidst the cheers of a theater audience!

These are the things Mrs. Evelyn Glenn says happened to her. Now she wants somebody to pay $15,000 for the stolen fruits. They were stolen, she declares, through the amorous caprice of a comedian, who left the stage of the Empire theater here and boldly entering the box she occupied, violently kissed her and hugged her and caressed her.

It is the kiss she values at $15,000. The hugs and the caresses are simply a part of the itemized bill she laid before the court of common pleas when she filed suit for that sum against the Cleveland Empire Theater Company and F. M. Drew and W. T. Campbell.

"GENERAL" COXEY

In Announcing Candidacy for Senate, Says He Is Through with the Socialists.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—"General" Jacob S. Coxe, leader of famous "armies," reached this city from Massillon, O., and announced himself as a candidate for United States senator.

"I'm through with the Socialists," said Coxe, at the Waldorf. "I shall have three planks in my platform, first—a federal bank in every community to lend money on real estate and chattel property at its assessed value and at a two per cent tax instead of interest.

"Second—Communities to be empowered to borrow money from the United States treasury on non-interest bonds to employ the unemployed on road building and other public works.

"Third—Congress to take over railroads, pipe lines, telegraphs and telephones at their physical value and operate them at cost."

BREAKS BOTH ARMS.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Harry Zell, of this city, had both arms broken within an hour after starting on his new job as foreman of a bakery at Allentown. His new employer, and the bakery force were watching him start a new kneading machine and while he was explaining its workings he was caught. His arms were drawn far into the mechanism and he may lose one of them.

DOG CARRIES DISEASE TO LIVE STOCK

On the Farm When He Is Not Given Proper Attention as to Cleanliness.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The dog in the country is a useful and pleasant adjunct to the farm if he is properly controlled and cared for, but when neglected, may readily become a carrier of disease to stock, in addition to gaining opportunity to kill sheep and destroy gardens and other property. Dog ordinances, as a general rule, have been intended chiefly to curb the dog's power of doing harm by attacking, biting, killing or running sheep or stock. The part that he plays as a carrier of diseases to animals only recently has been recognized, according to the zoologists of the department of agriculture, who believe that when this is better understood, rural ordinances and laws which lessen this danger will gain the support of the community.

The diseases carried to stock by dogs, the foot-and-mouth disease is probably of the greatest interest at this time. In this case the dog acts as a mechanical carrier of infection. The dog which runs across an infected farm easily may carry in the dirt on his feet the virus of this most contagious of animal diseases to other farms and thus spread the disease to the neighboring herds. In infected localities it is absolutely essential, therefore, to keep all dogs chained and never to allow them off the farm except on leash.

Carrier of Malaria. There are, however, many other maladies in the spread of which the dog takes an active part. In Bulletin 260 of the United States Department of Agriculture, "The Dog as a Carrier of Parasites and Disease," it is pointed out that rabies, hydatid, ringworm, favus, double pored tapeworm, roundworm and tapeworm are often conveyed to human beings in this way. It occasionally happens also that the dog helps fleas and ticks in transmitting bubonic plague or the deadly spotted fever.

Hydatid disease is caused by the presence in the liver, kidneys, brain, lungs and other organs of a bladder worm or larval tapeworm. Bladder worms are often as large as an orange and may be larger. A dog which is allowed to feed on carrion or the raw viscera of slaughtered animals may eat all or part of a bladder worm which contains numerous tapeworm heads. These tapeworm heads develop into small segmented tapeworms in the intestines of the dog. The tapeworms in turn develop eggs that are passed out in the excrement of the dog. They are spread broadly on store here last week and Mr. Archdeacon left at once for Columbus to identify his goods. He is still in Columbus and the capture of the robbers is expected soon, as the police have them under surveillance in the Ohio city.

Important to Family. These reasonable measures, important to the stock on the farm, have a direct connection with the health of the family. Where ringworm